Freak Of Nature, Geese Grow Two Pairs Of Wings

Things happen at the Moore residence just opposite the cemetery in the north end. Mrs. Ada Everest at that address has two pairs of geese with double wings on each side and three geese with two wings on one side and one wing on the other.

The second wing, protrudes from underneath the regular wing which is fully formed. The second wing is stunted and lacking in the complete bone structure. The geese eat normal but are shunned by two other geese a few months younger.

Wednesday night, Howard Moore came upon a snapping turtle on his way home from work which, Mr. Moore says, weighed at least 30 pounds and was at least 50 years old. "Could just have easily been 75 years," he said.

"When the turtle saw me coming, he pulled his head in," Mr. Moore related. "I dropped a piece of cloth near him and his head came out and he tore the cloth. Later I put a stick near him and he tore the bark right off."

Mr. Moore says he dragged the turtle as far as he could towards the river and let it go. Not the least of the surprises at the Moore residence, however, is the new pair of rubber boots which Mr. Moore's grandson, two-year-old Paul Howard Moore, now has. Paul is pretty proud of those boots.

GIRL HIKER RETURNS FROM TRIP TO WEST

Joyce Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hill, Huron St., thumbed her way back to Newmarket Friday after a round trip to the Pacific ocean. The 20-year-old Newmarket girl and a friend, Margaret Smith, Toronto, set out on their extended hitch-hike Aug. 1, and each was able to return home from her tour with only $60 less than she started with.

Joyce returns to her studies now. She has another year at night school where she is specializing in languages with the aim of a career in the diplomatic service.

Leaving Toronto Aug. 1, the pair arrived in Seattle Aug. 15. Of that part of their trip which was south of the border, Joyce said that she found the Americans with whom they travelled of the opinion that the boundary line between Canada and the United States should be wiped out and the two countries made as one.

From Seattle, the two girls took the ferry to Victoria and then across to Vancouver where they stayed five days taking in the art galleries, Stanley Park and other points of interest. From Vancouver, they hiked to the Okanagan Valley and then to Banff where they stayed ten days so taken were they by the scenic beauty of the country.

From Banff they travelled to Edmonton, then Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg, and to Chicago, and from Chicago home by way of Windsor. It took the girls four weeks to get home with actual days on the road numbering nine.

One of Joyce's prized possessions which she picked up on the tour were two pieces of petrified wood which she wheeled out of the attendant in the petrified forest in Washington.

She was a member of the Methodist church and was active in its work. She taught Sunday-school and was for several years president of the Missionary Society. At the time of her death she was a member of Trinity United church. Fond of good books, she was a familiar figure in the public library. Her chief interest was her home.

Woman Routes Man Who Entered Home, Hid There In Night

Mrs. G. Trusty, mother of Mona Dean, was knocked unconscious Tuesday morning following a struggle with an unidentified man who had forced his way into their home on Main St. the night before and had apparently remained in hiding throughout the night.

Mrs. Trusty discovered the man hiding behind the chestfield as she reached forward to turn on the radio.

Miss Dean said that the night before, shortly after they had gone to bed, they heard noises downstairs and had investigated and found nothing. The noises were repeated after they returned to bed but again the search yielded nothing.

An uncle of Miss Dean and near neighbor, Jack Beattie, was called and he in turn found nothing after a thorough search of the house. In the morning, it was found that nothing had been disturbed.

Miss Dean went to work and when later she called her mother by phone, she received no answer. Becoming alarmed, she called her uncle and aunt who discovered Mrs. Trusty on the floor unconscious. Chief Constable James F. Leeder investigated but so far has not found any trace of the marauder.

Tpr. C. W. Hoover, son of Mr. Fred Hoover and the late Mrs. Hoover, arrived home recently. He enlisted in Toronto with the Governor-General's Horse Guards in 1940 and saw action in Africa, Italy and Holland.

VISITING MINISTER RECALLED BY DEATH

Rev. E. C. Hall, a former pastor of the Christian church, now of Phillipsburg, N.J., and Mrs. Hall, arrived at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Dolson, near Mono Mills on Saturday, but were called home by the sudden death of their son-in-law, Rev. Hayden Howells, of Indiana, Pa., husband of Christina N. Hall, formerly of Oshawa and Newmarket.

Mr. Howells had been ill for some time but drove Mr. and Mrs. Hall to the station when they left his home to visit Canada last week. His end came suddenly.

At the close of his address, W. M. Cockburn presented Rev. Newham with a hassocek as a memento of his visit here.

Earlier in the meeting, the two vice presidents, R. C. Morrison and R. L. Pritchard, were matched in a log sawing contest with Mr. Pritchard winning by two ounces of sawdust. The club secretary, T. F. Doyle, read a letter from S. J. Robbins, Wallaceburg, telling of the receipt of the breakfast set he had won in the carnival draw in August.

A resolution to ask the Newmarket town council to station a patrolman on Main St. as a means to avoid traffic accidents, moved by Jack Luck, was passed without dissent.

Rev. Newham told the club of the presentation to Frank Courtney of an address of appreciation for the work Mr. Courtney has done as district treasurer.

Revell, Arden Ave., Tuesday of last week and the rugs woven by the W.A. members were on sale at the Thursday meeting in the parish hall where they sold immediately. The members of the W.A. begin work again Thursday afternoon on the rugs and quilts which will make up their Dorcas work besides helping to provide an outfit for an Indian girl at one of the Anglican mission schools.

It is hoped to increase the membership of the group so as to have more assistance in accomplishing the work of the coming season.

CLOTHING COLLECTION WILL AID PEACE

There has been an Allied victory in war but it must be many years before there is a victory in peace. Differences in policy among the United Nations must be reconciled, the starving and naked must be fed and clothed, new trade routes must be opened, the men and women in uniform must be re-established in civil life and a wartime economy converted to peacetime practices. A failure in achieving these ends will destroy the value of the victory in war. It will mean that a deadlier world conflict will have been only postponed, not prevented for all time.

Canadians, like the peoples of other United Nations, have not been so well schooled in the tasks of peace as in those of war. At Dunkirk and Pearl Harbor, the full force of the enemy was shown. The United Nations learned then of the enormity of the job ahead if they were to survive. So far, there have been no Dunkirks or Pearl Harbors in the battle to secure the peace. There have been growing indications of the nearness of such events in food riots, clashes in policy, strikes, and the deathlists of those who died from starvation and ill treatment.

There is still time to avoid the Dunkirks and Pearl Harbors of peace. It will require the individual effort of every Canadian if these calamities are to be avoided. It will require the full support of the coming victory loan for the monies raised then will besides helping in rehabilitation of veterans also enable national aid to our Allies through credits and stimulated trade. It will require the stretching forth of a helping hand by individual Canadians to those who have lost so much through war.

Of immediate concern is the collection of used clothing for European countries. In making the collection a success, Canadians can demonstrate that they are as willing to help in peace as they were in war. The collection begins at the first of next month. In the success of the clothing collection will be found the measure of success in making this peace a permanent one.

CONTROL OF ATOM BOMB OUR RESPONSIBILITY

A news item from England tells of a protest against the use of the atomic bomb on Japan. The protest, signed by ministers, writers and teachers, says in part that the use of the bomb was a "further deliberate violation of the principles of sacredness of human life upon which Christian civilization and democratic society alike have been based and the perpetuation of this crime reduces to hypocrisy the self-constituted right of Allied nations to put 'war criminals' on trial."

The atom bomb is no different from any other instrument of war except that it is deadlier. A rifle will kill one, a shell can kill 15 or 20, an air bomb can kill 50 or 60, and now the atom bomb can kill thousands. To single out the atom bomb as a 'deliberate violation of the sacredness of human life' while ignoring the killing power of other weapons demonstrates a fundamental misconception of many in respect to the bomb.

Any means by which life is destroyed is a violation of the sacredness of human life. Yet we use the rifle and the tank, the airplane and the battleships to protect ourselves by using them to destroy the foe before he destroys us. The atom bomb was used in the same manner. Had it not been used, it has been estimated that a million and a quarter lives would have been lost in the invasion of Japan. Nor is there any doubt that had the atom bomb not been used by the Allies, it would have been used by the foe.

Of more importance is the fact that the protests against the use of the bomb are an indication of an unrealistic attitude towards the problems before us. The atom bomb is here whether we like it or not. It constitutes a threat to a lasting peace just as the airplane constituted a similar threat to the peace after the last war. The onus is not upon the scientists who learned how to use the atom in a bomb but upon us that we use the bomb in a manner which will provide a lasting and just peace. Here is where the real responsibility lies. Progress can not be halted because of the nature of new discoveries. Instead we must learn how to apply these new discoveries for the welfare of mankind.

SEEK TO MODERATE CARNIVAL GAMBLING

It is the general policy of the executive of the district of which the Newmarket Lions club is part to discourage the large scale sale of tickets on houses and cars, and more specifically, the use of gambling devices at carnivals. This was stated by Rev. Bert E. Newham, deputy district governor, at the last Lions club meeting here.

He reported that it was felt by the district executive that sooner or later, a Lions club would be prosecuted by law with a resultant unfavorable effect on Lions club work generally. In another vein, he cited instances where there was reckless spending by minors on gambling devices.

Public opinion in regards to money wheels, lucky tickets, etc., is about evenly divided. On one hand there is the assumption that an adult is sufficiently responsible not to be reckless and spend money he can ill afford. It is also argued that gambling is an enjoyable pastime and those who can afford it should not be penalized by the excesses of others. Finally, since the funds so raised are used for worthy causes, it is felt that the end more than legitimizes the means.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that the use of gambling devices to raise money tends to get out of hand unless carefully watched, and that in the excitement of gambling, ordinarily responsible individuals are apt to lose control and spend money they haven't got. Again it is argued that gambling is habit forming and the habit picked up at a carnival where the stake is low might lead to gambling with larger sums and consequent disaster.

The sale of lucky tickets and the use of money wheels is one of the best ways by which to raise money. It is unfortunate that contributions for a worthy cause can not be obtained unless in turn, the donor is given illicit entertainment. This failing of human nature is not improved by the continual reliance upon gambling wheels and tickets to raise funds. At the same time, as long as this failing persists, gambling will be used as a means to raise money.

It is to be hoped that the sponsors of such carnivals will exercise a tight rein over these activities and not be influenced by the need of funds to the extent that it overshadows all other considerations.

PROUD FATHER ROUTED BY GIRLS

The New Arrival went out in his go-cart Sunday afternoon with the proud father at the helm. He has been joy-riding before but the previous trips have been in the nature of trial runs and the routes were along the back streets. Moreover, the earlier trips were made with two pilots, each advising the other how best to navigate the curbs. Sunday, however, it was felt that father, having passed his driving tests, could be trusted alone on Main St.

The trip was made without major accident. There was some trouble when one wheel of the carriage jammed in a sidewalk crack, and a double curb required some careful handling. But these temporary setbacks were overcome without too much trouble and the lessons learned will be put to good use the next time.

Most enjoyable feature of the trip was being able to compare notes with other go-cart pushers. We found that when two go-carts meet, the etiquette of the occasion demands they halt while each parent examines the other's child and exclaims at his beauty while secretly noting that he in no way compares with his own. The babies seem to take this proceeding calmly, giving each other the once over with no comment.

Little girls are to be avoided, we found, by male go-cart pushers. A woman can cope with younger ones of the same sex but the male parent is lost. We met a party of little girls homeward bound from Sunday-school (it would be more accurate to say we were ambushed). They crowded about the carriage like pirates boarding a Spanish galleon. The New Arrival's bonnet was straightened, his blankets smoothed, his sweater given a grooming; all this to the accompaniment of murmurs and baby talk. The New Arrival, who up to the moment had been practising vocal solos at the top of his lungs, quietened and gave the girls his best attention.

During this invasion, we had been pushed aside and ignored. We would have probably remained anonymous but one of the girls reaching into the blankets withdrew her hand exclaiming in shocked tones, "Why, the poor little fellow is soaking wet." Immediately accusing eyes were turned on us. We had the distinct impression that the girls did not approve of a parent who would let anything like that happen. It was no use explaining we were hurrying home for that reason. "Well," said one of the girls, "I certainly wouldn't wheel my baby around like that." We left with as much dignity as we could manage.

In Passing

A neighbor's young son has been very busy lately constructing a house in the trees. He has assembled all sorts of wood and nails and has built what he firmly intends to be his future home in the lower branches of a maple tree. Since there is considerable need for privacy among the young fry, the house is equipped with a rope ladder so that its tenant can be alone at will.

Every boy passes through the Robinson Crusoe period when he must build forts and hideaways where he can assume every guise from that of the immortal castaway to that of more recent vintage, a commando spying on the enemy. Right now, however, he is on the lookout for claim jumpers. He has heard of the housing shortage and every spare moment is taken up with guard duty so fearful is he that a homeless family will storm his castle and take possession.

Fire Chief Joe Brammar and his men are to be congratulated on the bright appearance of the fire hydrants, fire alarm boxes, and not the least, the fire house door which is as brilliant as a cosmetic advertisement.

Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen, Archbishop of Toronto, has promised an investigation into the condition of the Anglican cemetery on Eagle St. with a view of restoring it. The cemetery, with tombstones dating in the early years of Newmarket's development, has been allowed to fall into considerable disrepair. The archbishop's action will be heartily approved.

The "melancholy days" are what the poet calls the autumn season. There was nothing melancholy about Wednesday with its warm sun on maple leaves showing the first colors from the frost.

Despite the attention given the subject in the council chambers at the last council meeting, children going home from school persist in riding two on a bicycle and ignoring the stop signs entirely. These reckless cyclists are not only risking their own necks but those of others. We saw a driver sworn to avoid a careless cyclist and in the effort, almost knock down a pedestrian. Unless there is immediate police action or other discipline, there will be a serious accident.

MARRIED—At the bride's residence on Wednesday, Sept. 11, 1895, by Rev. W. Percy, Stouffville, Annie Davidson, second daughter of Colin Davidson, Scott township, to John Jacob Lemon, Detroit, only son of J. B. Lemon, Sandford.

MARRIED—At St. John's church, Elora, on Wednesday, Sept. 18, 1895, by Rev. Thos. Smith, Fannie Mary, only daughter of John R. Wissler, Salem, to Rev. Hedley V. Thompson, rector of Newmarket, third son of Capt. Thompson, Meaford.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

CINDERELLA REVERSED

Wooly, the grey Persian, had seven kittens recently. That is an event always dreaded in this household for Wooly, like a ballerina or prima donna, is temperamental.

Four of the kittens departed this life with haste and without ceremony. The three remaining, with their mother, were placed in a well padded box. For the first day, peace and quietness reigned, broken only by Wooly's purrs which are sonorous to say the least, or a tiny wail as one of the infants lost track of the others. We had been careful to keep grey kittens as Wooly abandoned Amos, the black imp, while he was still in infancy.

On the second day of the trio's earthly pilgrimage I saw Wooly going round the house with a speculative eye and as housing conditions were not congested, she evidently made a choice. "What's happening to the kittens?" mother wanted to know, as small, indignant shrieks echoed from the various directions.

"I suppose Wooly's moving," I told her, resignedly. "That cat is a nuisance," mother informed me. "Why can't she be satisfied with a good bed?"

"You'll have to ask her," said I, a bit shortly, for I wondered how long she'd be satisfied this time. I found she had located under the dining-room couch and here she stayed till one day when something happened which, from her point of view, was the limit.

That day we had a small cousin, who adored kittens and had been taught to handle them properly, visiting us. He promptly lay down on the floor beside Wooly's bed and fondly embraced the kittens. Wooly gave me one reproachful glare and departed for parts unknown. When Andy left, I discovered her under the dining-room table on a chair. She has never been the same since. Her nerves are shattered and the kittens are in a constant state of turmoil, never knowing what will happen next.

The morning following the Andy invasion, she moved the protesting mites to a box behind the dining-room stove, but a visitor saw her there and that night she managed to sneak out with one kitten and deposited it under a cellar door. So I gathered up the remainder and with a peroration, not a blessing, put them with the first. Now here's a funny thing—every time anything happens—she grabs the one identical to herself, and leaves the other two to—well—just leaves them!

Then near tragedy occurred. You all remember the morning of the torrential downpour? Before the man of the house left he said "You'd better get those kittens into a better place or they'll drown." Just after he left, I heard Wooly's voice in the shed and went to investigate. She had one emerald eye fixed on the door and she was sounding the alarm. When I appeared she looked me sternly in the eye, then glanced at her miniature on the floor. So she showed me a box and where to put it. I did so and put a little blanket in it and was going away, when she indicated it didn't suit and deposited the poor kitten in the coal pile. So with muttered anathemas on all persons and one in particular, I put the bed in there and left her.

Box lacrosse is due for a big return next spring in the Woodbridge-Richmond Hill district if present plans carry through in 1946. Recently an attempt was made to get the game re-established in Richmond Hill arena but the fact that the Hill Lions club have installed a dance floor in the arena and are holding dances each week was sufficient to prevent it. However, the enthusiasts of Canada's national game are prepared to go ahead with teams from Woodbridge, Thornhill, Maple, Langstaff and Richmond Hill carrying on next year.

Leading lights behind the plan include Cal Miller of Maple, Al White, Cec and John Mabley of Richmond Hill, Bert Middleton of Carville and Charlie Rowntree. Woodbridge made a start this year with two or three minor teams in action and all these places intend to erect outdoor box lacrosse where no covered rinks are available. For the past ten years or more the Peel county lacrosse league has enjoyed wide success in the smaller places and there is no reason the York county men can't have just as good competition. The time is ripe, too, for the return of lacrosse to Aurora-Newmarket-Bradford-Sutton, and if those who are interested in this great sport would start the ball rolling, they would soon find plenty of players and lots of people willing to help.

Fundamentally the fans are lacrosse conscious and given some good competition would be ready to go for it at the cash wicket. Lacrosse has pretty well always paid its way and a winning team need have no worries. If we are correct, the biggest crowds ever in Bradford and Richmond Hill arenas were at lacrosse matches and near record attendances were set at Aurora arena for several games in the Tri-County series. How about some of you former lacrosse players thinking the matter over and seeing what can be done for lacrosse. We shall be pleased to give any publicity possible in the matter.

Farmer Conacher is what the boys will soon be calling the genial Charlie, once the ace sniper of the N.H.L. and coach of Oshawa Generals. Charlie has purchased an 80-acre farm near Pickering. He will be back again with the Generals and they appear to have a contending team lined up. Barrie Colts will definitely take the plunge into junior A this year but just where they will get the type of players necessary is a bit hard to say. The best players in last year's club, Ab Bowen and Murray Richardson, are certain to make the grade in minor pro and the remnants would hardly do on their last year's showing. That leaves it up to St. Louis Flyers, now in training at Port Arthur, to supply around ten players to form the nucleus of the team. Hap Emms will be able to do that all right but the competition will be really keen this year and to put over the new artificial rink, Barrie is going to need a team that can win most of its games.

No news has been given out as to who will coach the team but our hunch is that Red Farrell of Grimsby Peach fame and well known in this district as one of the O.H.A.'s most competent referees, can have the job if he wants it and that he will decide in the affirmative. Red should be able to do a dandy job too.

Howard Jackson, one of the best friends the younger lads have in the district and a real booster for kids' sports, is giving up his post as a highway traffic officer at the end of this month and has taken on an agency for a well known brand of motor cars in the district. In the minds of the motoring public and the people who know him, Howard has been as popular as any police officer could hope to be. He never swerved from the path of duty and gave his evidence with complete impartiality. A fine sense of discretion and common sense added to the efficient way he did his job. We have no doubt a successful business career lies ahead of him. This way he is more likely to have time to give hockey, baseball and other sports a boost.

Wally Wilson, who turned in a bang-up game for Toronto navy last winter, has received his discharge from the silent service and as he has been on the reserve list of the Toronto Leafs for some years, will be on hand when the Leafs move to Owen Sound for training.

Whitley Barillif, who will be remembered for his sterling play for Brampton Bulls against Newmarket camp two years ago and who performed on the defence for the Canadian Armored Corps last winter at Camp Borden, has also drawn the coveted ticket and he will report for a trial with Boston Bruins. Whitley won't make the Boston team but he should do all right for himself elsewhere. Nick Frocenko, young baseballer of the Milliken senior team and before that with Markham, is pretty handy with his dunks. When at Camp Borden with the Markham air cadets a few weeks ago, he tangled with a French-Canadian youngster in the time.

him a pretty fair pasting despite the fact the other lad had had some experience.

Mrs. Audrey Jones (Audrey Stephens of Richmond Hill), former president of the Richmond Hill Tennis club and one of the leading feminine tennis players of the district a few years ago, graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in business administration early this month. She is a sister of FO Bruce Stephens who formerly played hockey for Aurora.

We have been given some additional information concerning the golfing prowess of the Learys of Sutton (father and son). It appears that John won the 36-hole medal competition for junior golfers at the Briars club while father, Harold, took the club's century trophy and was runner-up to the club captain, Red Corner, in the consolation series of the men's open competition. John may soon be able to match his father on the links but we doubt if he'll ever be able to equal his dad's record on the baseball diamond for Aurora and Sutton. Dr. Leary, incidentally, was a crack soccer player, a member of that good University of Toronto soccer team which at one time included the late Gene Underhill, Norm Campbell, Norm Johnson, Curly Underhill and Herb Spaulding, all former students of Aurora high school, a record probably never equalled by any secondary school in Ontario.

St. Andrew's College rugby team will clash with University of Toronto schools at the Aurora campus on Friday afternoon, Oct. 5, and this game will give those who like their football a chance to see two of the smartest prep school teams in action. Once again the fans will be welcome at St. Andrew's and of course there's no admission charge. These colorful games equal the intercollegiate matches for rivalry and rooting and are looked forward to each year with an ever increasing following of North York people.

Bob Burns of Markham, well-known district all round athlete who served overseas as a flying officer with the R.C.A.F., has been awarded the French Croix de Guerre for his air activities. Bob is back in civilian life in Markham once again. We got a kick out of an incident related to us by Mrs. Alex. Doner, formerly of Aurora, now residing near Newmarket. Some weeks ago in this column we related the success story of Elizabeth Arden, cosmetics expert and internationally known race horse owner who, as Miss Florence Graham, was born and raised in the Woodbridge district. Mrs. Doner, whose maiden name was Lily Snyder, was also born and raised in the same district and it is a good many years (she did tell us but we won't say) since she had heard tell of her childhood playmate. After perusing our column (and if we do say so, we are always surprised at our varied number of readers), she decided to try and contact her old friend. A letter to New York confirmed the identity and in the near future these two ladies will probably be talking over old times for Elizabeth Arden expects to visit Canada sometime this fall. There's nothing like a few bits of human interest to warm the cockles of the heart and we extend our thanks to Mrs. Doner for passing on the information to us.

Pee-Wee Simpson, the little half-pint hurler who was the first moundman for Newmarket camp softballers, pitched Camp Headquarters to victory over the Provost Corps in the Camp Borden senior B series and looked mighty good in doing so. Simpson may find it a different story, however, when he tackles the Borden senior A winners, either Armored Corps or A-10. Incidentally, Norm Bagnell, sensational pitcher for the A-10 team and one of the best young pitchers we have ever seen, twirled a neat no-hit, no-run either Armored Corps or A-10. A.F. Flyers in the semi-finals. Bagnell is a Toronto boy and has been hurling senior B softball since 1943.

Bucko McDonald, member of the House of Commons and ex-N.H.L. star, set some kind of a record for parliamentarians the other day when he jaunted back from Ottawa to play first base for the Orillia team, which is in quest of the Ontario intermediate B softball title, against Cobalt. Orillia took the series in straight games. Now if Bucko can either referee or play hockey, aside from the fact that he will undoubtedly possess the record of being the heartiest trencherman in the Commons, he will set a new high for public life.

Showers are being installed by the board this year at Richmond Hill high school, good news not only for the boys and girls attending school there but for the visiting teams too. Nothing like a shower after basketball, track or soccer, before making the trip home to Aurora or Newmarket.

How's that? I see by the papers and of course I always believe what I read, especially if it's in The Era and Express, that one Dr. Merv Peever is shortly to be domiciled in Newmarket. This will come as a

THE Electric METER

Is for Your Protection

EVEN though your Hydro makes electricity available to you in Ontario at a very low cost, it is important that you pay only for the amount of power that you actually use. The electric meter on duty in your home, is your protection against paying for more than you consume.

Every one of some 800,000 meters in Ontario is tested and certified by a Dominion Government inspector at regular intervals to assure complete accuracy. Electric meters are among the finest of jewelled precision instruments: : : as constantly true as the finest watch;

For your protection, Hydro installs a separate meter, exclusively for your own household. Having a meter of your own is the only possible way to be sure that you only pay for the electricity which you use. Imagine buying food from a merchant who weighs several people's orders at the same time, and splits the cost evenly regardless of the size of the order! You want your order weighed individually when you buy food. When you use electricity your meter assures accurate individual measurement.

Remand Two On Bail Of $1,000 For Week

Edwin Ernest Ellis and William Foster, both charged with having illegal possession of and having unlawfully manufactured liquor were remanded one week by Magistrate W. E. McIlveen in magistrate's court here Friday. Bail was set at $1,000 each. N. L. Mathews, K.C., appeared for accused.

Fred W. Glover, charged with careless driving and failure to remain at the scene of an accident, was also remanded one week at his request.

Mr. Mathews pleaded guilty on behalf of his client, Arthur Dibbon, to a charge of driving without a permit. Accused was found guilty on a second charge of failing to drive with due care and attention and fined $10 and costs. The charges were laid following an accident in which the car driven by accused struck two youths on Yonge highway south of Bond Lake.

The two youths, Ronald C. Mackinnon and William Crawford, testified the car struck them as they walked south on the west side of the highway after midnight of Saturday, Sept. 8. Accused took them to a doctor and reported the accident to the police. Provincial Constable William Melbourne testified that accused's lights were dim.

Accused stated that the lights in the car had faded as he was driving home from a cottage. He said he had taken every precaution to avoid accidents. "I did not see the boys until my passenger yelled, 'Look out' and then it was too late," he said. He testified that he had been driving quite slowly.

William Gordon Wilcox, facing two charges of fraud, a charge of damaging property in jail and a charge of having escaped a police officer, was remanded to Oct. 5 on bail of $500.

Harvey Westgarth was fined $10 and costs on a charge of careless driving. David William Cosgrove testified that the truck he was driving was hit by a car driven by accused on the Hedge Road as he was approaching a curve. Accused said he had been blinded by the lights of witness' truck and had misjudged his distance.

Cpl. Wilfred Rose, R.C.A.F., remanded from last week for judgment on a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent, was fined $25 and costs. "I am taking into consideration your service with the air force and overlooking past occurrences but I warn you not to appear in court again," Magistrate McIlveen said.

H. Kamerner was fined $10 and costs on a charge of careless driving. Gordon Murray, driver of a bread truck, testified accused's car was weaving on the road as it approached him. He said the car forced his truck off the road and damaged it. Accused denied his car had been weaving over the road.

Thomas P. Eversfield was fined $10 and costs on a charge of dangerous driving. Mrs. R. L. Pritchard testified that she had stopped her car to pick up a friend and while the car was parked off the road, it had been struck by a car driven by accused. "It was my fault," accused said. "My car seemed to pull over towards the parked car and I hit it. There was something wrong with the steering gear."

Letter From Ottawa

By J. E. SMITH, M.P. York North

It is quite a task learning to recognize the members of parliament and remember the name of the constituency they represent. The performance of Roy Graham, recently appointed deputy-clerk of the house, in taking the first vote was to me amazing. The former member for Swift Current, appointed to his present position some six weeks ago, called the names and readings of 221 members as they rose to record their vote in the first division in rapid succession. He slipped up on only one — Joe Bradette, member for Cochrane, and one of his close friends.

On the vote Liberals, Conservatives and Social Crediters all combined to vote against the C.C.F. amendment with the count being 193 to 29. Hope of quickly winding up the debate and getting on with the business was shattered when the Social Credit group immediately brought forward an amendment to take the place of the one just defeated. It probably will be dealt with early this week.

I have enjoyed meeting many interesting members of the house. This week Jean Francois Pouliot, member for Temiscouata, conducted a committee of instruction for new members which was very helpful. House procedure which seems complicated when boiled down by an experienced parliamentarian like Mr. Pouliot, really is simple after all. Mr. Pouliot, who is known as a fiery debater, has been a member of the house for 21 years. However, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, is the dean of the house and the former minister of public works. Last Friday he completed 34 years as a member of parliament. He was first elected in 1911 and has never suffered defeat at the polls.

This week I was pleased to be visited at the House of Commons by William Chisholm of North York township, P.L.-Lieut. Charles Gates of King, now stationed here with the R.C.A.F., and Reeve Charlie Hooper of Markham township. Reeve Hooper was in Ottawa as president of the Ontario agricultural council and made representations to the government regarding meat rationing.

There was considerable difference of opinion here about the meat rationing but following the conference last week and the announcement of some easing in the regulations, there is a pretty general expression that now the matter is settled the less kicking there is the better for all. We may as well settle back in the realization that this inconvenience is here with us for a while at least. We have been asked many times what is behind the meat rationing order. It is Canada's determination to meet in true Christian spirit the Biblical injunction to "feed the hungry."

In parliament the debate on the Speech from the Throne continues. There is a general feeling here, and I am sure throughout the country as well, that it would be better to end the debate and get on with the important business facing parliament. There is a natural anxiety to have the budget presented as soon as possible.

Much of the important work of parliament is done in committee and standing committees are being set up. These committees do very necessary and commendable work, however I am suggesting the appointment of one more to this parliament. During my association with politics I have been concerned with the opinion so often expressed, and the feeling which is widespread that the government is wasteful. Not this government in particular, but all governments, and irrespective of what party may be in office this impression prevails. These are times when all people are bearing a heavy load of taxation and I think it is most important they should be satisfied that they are getting good value for their money. If people are going to be taxed heavily as undoubtedly they will be for many years, it is important that this prevailing impression that governments are wasteful should be corrected. To that end I am assuming chairmanship of a committee to prevent government waste and as members of the committee I am appointing all the people of the riding of North York. I invite your co-operation by writing me a note pointing out some item of government business or administration you think wasteful. As chairman of the committee here at Ottawa, I will run down the facts of the matter and report to you. If there is some explanation justifying the expenditure I will let you know and you will pay your income tax with better spirit. If I can find no justification and that it is wasteful we will wage a fight against it. It is true that many items which are considered wasteful turn out to be not wasteful at all on examination of all the facts. This, however, is all to the good, and my aim in asking your co-operation on this committee is not only to eliminate waste but also to correct the impression that government is wasteful. I have ordered a second mail box in the parliamentary post office, so, come on, let's hear from you.

Don't worry about the phrasing. Let's have your letters. I hope to report some of the complaints in this column from week to week.

Here there seems to be general unanimity on the government proposal to adopt a national flag for Canada. There may not be such unanimity when it comes to selecting the design. No doubt you have read of some of the designs submitted. Perhaps you have one to suggest. If so let's have it soon. Personally, I like the red ensign flag which now flies over the parliament buildings here in Ottawa, and it is my guess that in the end it will be the design adopted.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told us in the Commons that he might ask the house to authorize him to go to Britain within a few months for discussions with Britain's new labor government. Mr. King said there were a number of questions he would like to discuss with Prime Minister Clement Attlee and other members of the new government.

Remember!

NOW THAT GAS RATIONING IS OFF, we'll be driving our cars more, and that brings up many problems, not the least of which is bulky garage doors. Out-dated struggling with garage doors can now be overcome by a simple and efficient set of hardware that swings the door easily and smoothly overhead. You can get away from the hazard of doors slamming shut, thus damaging fenders, and do away with shovelling snow to open the doors in winter. No more sagging hinges and scraping doors! This set of hardware can be put on your old doors or installed with new doors at a price as low as fifteen dollars. The only "must" is six inches clearance at the top of your door. Eastern Steel Products Limited, with offices at Preston, Toronto and Montreal, make this hardware under the trade name "Lift-Etc."

Christine Chausse, International Beauty Adviser of the Richard Hudon Company, will be in Toronto at the Regal Hotel on the 28th and 29th of October, where she will instruct Richard Hudon beauty consultants from many parts of Ontario on the art of teaching their clients more ways to keep beauty well-crowned. Miss Chausse brings with her a wealth of New York's finest beauty sophistication in make-up, as well as information on the new hair-dos, scientific data on skin care, and other problems. She will instruct Hudon and De Bette consultants of local Ontario stores into the latest beauty news of the day, so that they in turn can hand on the information to each individual customer.

SPEND MORE TO HAVE MORE

is the very pleasing philosophy of Eugene Berkovitz who wrote, in collaboration with George C. Adams, the new book, THE KEY TO SUCCESSFUL INVESTMENT WITHOUT REGIMENTATION. (Longmans & Co., Ltd.) In this discussion of Canada's economic future, the author advances some very sound arguments in favour of putting unused capital to work while protecting ownership rights. Exalting in simple language, written with the authority of wide experience, this is a book which merits study and will provoke considerable discussion.

The Foundation Lotion tones out and tones out blemishes for a final touch of powder and make-up, the two preparations giving an easy beauty treatment, pleasant, quick and effective.

THE BLACK ROSE is a hard-hitting historical novel which has the perfume of the Orient, but it is more than a novel. It is a penetrating comparison of the civilization of the Mongol Empire in the 13th century with that of England as she was during the same period. A little humbling to us in our calm assurance of "white superiority," it is a book which does not hesitate to betray the deficiencies in our cultural heritage. It is a fascinating book, one which reaches deep into the soil of medieval customs and mentality. The author, Thomas B. Costain, the publisher, McClelland and Stewart.

THESE ARE THE DAYS when houses are more uncomfortable than at any other time of year. The weather is not cold enough for central heating and yet too cool for interior comfort. Tangles of steam pipes lead to make themselves evident in otherwise well-mannered constitutions. You and a million other people begin to wonder, needlessly, if old age is not just around the corner after all, which is the time to purchase a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on your next trip to the drugstore, and have it handy for quick and comforting relief. Remember for cold feet at night, too. Put it on before retiring.

RECENT WEDDING

Sports, Recreation, Declared Feature Of War Memorials

After travels of over 7,000 miles across Canada as a featured member of Paddy Conklin's Aquacade Show, Leslie Beazer, Aurora, who managed Newmarket arena last winter, has returned home and as he puts it, "you have to travel across Canada to really appreciate Aurora and Newmarket".

Despite the fact that he did his diving act six to eight times a day in all kinds of weather, Mr. Beazer suffered only a few minor injuries and looks the picture of health. The only serious accident sustained by any member of the troupe was a cracked vertebrae of the back by one of the female performers.

"I had a good opportunity to study arenas and recreation centres across Canada," he said. "It is wonderful to see the plans being made for skating, swimming and cultural advantages as war memorials all the way across the dominion. The west in particular is far advanced and in a good many places the plans are all completed and most of the money raised. Many of the sports centres including parks and playgrounds are costing in six figures and the people figure the money well spent."

In Edmonton he saw four swimming pools for the children to learn to swim and frolic in at a cost of five cents a day to the youngsters. The public were in a mood of fairs and exhibitions, he said. Everywhere the show went the gates were bigger than for many years. New ideas for fairs and exhibitions were being developed and Mr. Beazer looks for a big revival of country fairs and exhibitions now disbanded. The Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, he understands, will not open until 1947. During his travels he met Elwood Hughes, general manager of the big fair who is studying exhibitions and shows across Canada and already lining up new attractions.

Mr. Beazer has no immediate plans for the future but expects to again apply for the position of manager of Newmarket arena for the coming winter.

Fleury Residence Bought By Wm. Unser, Toronto

William Unser, well-known Toronto caterer, has purchased the Herbert Fleury residence on Yonge St. north. The residence and grounds represent the largest single real estate holding within the town proper, and the property has been up for sale since the death of Mr. Fleury four years ago.

The deal was negotiated by a Toronto real estate firm and the price is understood to have been close to $12,000. The estate covers a solid block frontage on Yonge St. and in addition to the main building, there is another residence on the property.

Recently Miss Marguerite Fleury, Mr. Fleury's heir, who was a fugitive from the Nazis during the German occupation of France, returned to Canada and has revisited her old home which she had not seen in 20 years. The property had been in the possession of the Fleury family for 60 years, and some months back was being considered by a local group of citizens as a possible hospital or convalescent home site. It is understood Mr. Unser and his family will occupy the premises themselves in the next few months.

Mr. Clarke reported the largest attendance in the senior and intermediate classes in the history of the Sunday-school, and appealed for more teachers and greater interest by the adults, a request that was readily answered following the service.

Hugh McKee, Isabel Bruce and Fern Preston gave the scripture readings. Bruce Underhill read the scripture story and Charles McNaught read the main scripture lesson. Fifty scholars received promotion certificates in the Sunday-school rooms from Rev. Roy Hicks.

expert with the R.C.A.F. Should be home soon.

Frank Heaney, former Newmarket-Aurora resident, a Johnny-come-lately along with his brother, Russell, to the lawn bowling scene, is one of the up-and-coming young bowlers of the year and has won a lot of friends for himself by his sportsmanship on the greens. Frank is a veteran of this war and his advent to the bowling greens is a sample of what will happen when a lot of the boys return. The bowling clubs will find plenty of members and that goes for curling clubs too wherever they exist.

Roy McWhirter, who was connected with the Milliken hardball team, is the new principal of Milliken school. Formerly he was at Hagerman's Corners and he is a real addition to the community. Congratulations to Miller Wray, Schomberg race horse owner, on the birth of a son, and to Stan Flicker, former Aurora junior lacrosse and hockey expert, on the birth of a daughter.

Percy Morgan of Beaverton, who is no stranger to these parts, is racing a nice piece of horseflesh called Maud Gratian and this year has managed to get in the money in some of the better fall fair events. She appears headed for better things. Vic Meharg, former defenceman of Markham juniors and intermediates, had his car stolen from his home last week and when it was recovered in a quiet country lane, it was just about sans everything.

Reg Button, perhaps better recalled as "Teak" Button of the Stouffville intermediate baseball club, has been transferred from Trenton to Ottawa with the R.C.A.F. John Stuart, at low ebb so far as jumping horses are concerned, came up with a dandy recently in Orencia which captured one of the big steeplechase events at Woodbine. Ray Gettiffe, the shock-haired lad who sparked Dave Dinkney's Stratford Midgets against Newmarket Redmen in 1933, has decided to retire from the profession.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

Dodd's Kidney Pills

sional whirl after ten years. Ray was traded by Les Canadiens to Detroit Red Wings in a deal for Bill Reay of Quebec Aces but he has decided to give it all the go-by in favor of his civilian job in Montreal.

Signs of fall: Once again Harold Botham, veteran Vandevoort and rural league hockey player and promoter, announces his final retirement from hockey. "This time I really mean it," sez Harold. "No more hockey for me." Les Beazer arrives back home and reports he is hep to the sports situation hither and yon and in North York too, never having missed a single column while away.

De La Salle College sets the pace for district track and field meets by announcing its meet for Saturday, Sept. 29, at the college grounds with visitors welcome. Blondie Rawlings, discharged from the R.C.A.F., plans to resume his studies in medicine if possible at the University of Toronto and awaits word eagerly as to other discharged servicemen who intend to go back to school. Lieut. Bob Kennedy and his Newmarket camp softballers are still in the thick of the play-offs and game as ever despite loss of personnel from the team and poor weather. The Newmarket boys eliminated Monteith Intermediate camp which had previously bested Orillia and North Bay in surprise wins. Monteith went down 17-1 despite the presence of Reggie Guadagno, former Bellwoods Park hurler.

Eddie Ferguson, who has been tossing the big apple for York Depot in the Beaches league, is the latest addition to the Newmarket team and is now posted to rehabilitation wing at the camp. Fergy is one of the best in the business and the present battery of Ferguson and Murden probably rates as the best in the history of the camp. With leaves and discharges changing the picture every day, there is no telling what the line-up will be from game to game but No. 23 will be in there with the old college try as ever.

Either District Depot or Simcoe will provide the opposition in the final. Simcoe was once eliminated by Brantford but got a second chance when Brantford used an ineligible player.

Military rules for army personnel have been streamlined as follows: 1. army men now play on civilian teams (Barrie Juniors or Newmarket should benefit with that one). 2. Those who have a hockey job to go to are classed as going to employment (and what player now can't find himself going back to his old employer whom he kept under cover?). 3. Selective service now allows entrance to the States to play hockey. So everything is hunky-dory for most of the lads now and so far as military teams and their better players are concerned, it's a case of "kiss the boys good-bye".

Keep your fingers crossed but right from the inside we learn that Joint McComb is finally going to take the long overdue plunge into professional hockey and it was Baldy Cotton that caught the brass ring for none other than dear old Arthur Ross of the Boston Bruins. McComb will report to the Boston team in Quebec City come Oct. 10 and we don't need to say that he will have all North York pulling for him to make good. Playing the same brand of hockey as he did last year, he can't miss making the grade. However, strange things happen in the pro ranks and more than one player with ability has been given the push around. McComb won't be one of these. He is now at the age when he realizes he's got to cash in on those blue chips and Bill Cook of Cleveland Barons is mighty anxious to do business with the ex-Aurora junior, if the Bruins don't come to terms.

McComb is a "money" player, a good luck token so to speak. Look at his record. He has played on championship teams as follows: 1939, Aurora junior C, 1941, Ostrander mercantile league, 1942, Sutton Intermediate O.H.A., 1943, Aurora army intermediate O.H.A., 1944, Brampton Bullets, C.A.C. champions (uncrowned service kings), 1945, Newmarket camp district service champions.

In 1940, with any breaks, Aurora Tigers might have come through for a straight series of triumphs. "Bill," as he will probably be known from here in, knows his way around and if our old pal, Dit Clapper, doesn't go for him, we'll be greatly surprised. Good luck fellow. Incidentally, McComb himself figures that the Brampton Bullets of 1944 were the best team he ever played with and believe it or not, we just about agree with him.

Stop me if you've a mind to, but along the grapevine we learn that Bert Tunney, who will shortly open a barber shop in Aurora, has ordered a big sign which reads, "positively no hockey." But can the customers understand English? Norm Nigh, who played baseball for Aurora juveniles this year and also performs for Vandevoort hockeyists, bagged a 24-pound porcupine last week on the second concession of Whitchurch.

The Era and Express may be purchased in Newmarket at Spillette's, Best's, Bolton's, Campbell's, Bell's and Carruthers.

arise in any family

Banks are continually making small loans to meet these emergencies which can upset the best-planned budgets.

Three out of every five bank loans are for less than $500. Many of these are used to take care of such expenses as doctor or hospital bills, temporary embarrassment at tax-time, a sudden journey, the winter's coal bill.

Again, educational needs of the family often are financed by small bank loans.

These small loans enable individuals to consolidate debts, and to pay back from income.

Small loans furnish just one more example of the service available to you at your bank.

BACK TO OLD TIME

By GOLDEN GLOW

After six long years of war when daylight saving time was so very necessary, this weekend we are going back to old time.

Sun time, standard time, or whatever you want to call it!
Strange to say, most folk who comment on it don't like the idea. Well, whether we like it or not, like meat rationing, we are to have it and the best plan is to submit with a good grace.

That is another queer thing—the effect of meat rationing on folks—for it seems to be the women who are strongly in favor of it! But I am writing today on going back to standard time and just thinking how once again we'll be thrown into utter confusion for a day or so till everyone realizes which way we have to turn the hour hand on our clocks.

More folks can get confused and mixed up over daylight saving time than any other happening. I heard a broadcast over the radio this morning which stated that all trains on the continent would stand still for two hours—I haven't had time to think that one out yet. Why the two hours? There must be a logical reason which will all come clean when I take time to puzzle it out, no doubt.

Always when I think of daylight saving time I think of what is called Joshua's Long Day, when in the siege of Jericho in Scripture times the sun stood still. I like to think of Joshua, a war hero of olden days, as being the first one to use daylight saving. Well, here's hoping we do not have too much trouble next Sunday, that we do not get to church an hour earlier than we need and that we know we put our clocks back instead of forward. Wait a minute. Now do we put them back or is it forward? Well! We'd better make sure before we go to bed Saturday night.

Don't think you have to stay up till 2 a.m., as some did when D.S.T. was first instituted, to put the clock back! No, you can safely do it Saturday night and when you wake at your usual hour you can say, "Ho-hum, I can have another cat nap". But as sure as you do, you'll over-sleep and get up late. Now just check up on yourself next Sunday a.m. and see if I am not right.

We really do push the hour hand back an hour and not forward. Sure that's it. We gain the hour we lost six years ago. Had I better go and turn the clocks back now before I forget which way to do it? No! No!
I'm serious. I'm not trying to be funny, really! Didn't I tell you we all get so confused about it we do not know where we are, whether we push the hour hand on an hour or push it back—well
—you puzzle it out!

MOUNT PLEASANT
Oct. 3 Date Set For Guild Monthly Supper

Mount Pleasant, Sept. 17—The Mount Pleasant Women's Guild held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Percy Brown. The rainy day kept some of the members away and the attendance was low.

Mrs. Bernard Davidson gave a paper on Giving. The monthly supper is to be held at the home of Mrs. Everett Yorke and Claude on Oct. 3. Supper will be served from 5.30 until 8 o'clock followed by a program of social activity.

REPAIR WALKS
As part of the program to repair and rebuild Newmarket sidewalks as money, time and labor becomes available, town men are working on sidewalks on Church and Botsford Sts. with Park Ave. next on the schedule. Frank Bowser, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, said this week.
